Who is at risk

The current novel coronavirus (COVID-19) outbreak, which began in December 2019, presents a significant challenge for the entire world. Based on the World Health Organization's declaration that this is a public health emergency of international concern, the UK Chief Medical Officers have raised the risk to the UK from moderate to high.

What to look out for

Typical symptoms of coronavirus include fever and a cough that may progress to a severe pneumonia causing shortness of breath and breathing difficulties. Generally, coronavirus can cause more severe symptoms in people with weakened immune systems, older people, and those with long-term conditions like diabetes, cancer and chronic lung disease.

What can you do?

Call Allium Environmental to arrange a site visit so that we can discuss your options with you. If one of your team is developing symptoms, get them to call 111 to speak to an NHS advisor. As a general rule, additional care and attention should be paid to washing of hands, using hand sanitiser and using a tissue for sneezes and disposing of them correctly.

What can we do?

We can fully disinfect your premises to remove remaining sources of infection. We will provide a reactive service, enabling your business/premises to return to a functional state with the minimum of disruption; reassuring your staff and customers that it is safe to return.

Cleaning does not however provide ongoing protection from the virus being re-introduced.
